

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI
DI NAPOLI FEDERICO II

NSEF

Naples Summer School in Economics and Finance

Sixth Edition

June 16-19, 2025

Department of Economics and Statistics*

Courses

Blockchain and its Applications

Marco Di Maggio
Imperial College

Historical Economics

Francesco Drago
University of Catania

Morality, Institutions, and Prosperity

Tore Ellingsen
Stockholm School of Economics

Behavioural Macroeconomics

Nicola Pavoni
Bocconi University

The Summer School is addressed to Ph.D. and advanced Master students in Economics and Finance.

There are no admission fees. Admissions will be based on applicants' qualifications and research interests.

Participants will have to cover their travel and accommodation expenses. Attendance is required for the entire duration of the Summer School.

Applicants must submit their application at the following link no later than April 22, 2025 <https://goo.gl/forms/swHSxa8ZpDu358Y73>

Participants are strongly encouraged to present their own research in dedicated poster sessions.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Participants will gain insights into cutting-edge research in economics and finance through lectures by outstanding faculty.

After lectures, the faculty will be available to discuss research ideas and projects with participants.

The Summer School will take place at Monte Sant'Angelo Campus in the University of Naples Federico II
Contact person: Micol Sorrentino Ph: +39 081.675309 e-mail: mef@unina.it Website: www.dises.unina.it/didattica

Local scientific organizer: Luca Picariello

*Financed by the Italian Ministry of University and Research as a "Department of Excellence" in 2023-27