

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI
DI NAPOLI FEDERICO II

NSEF

Naples Summer School in Economics and Finance

Second Edition

June 17-21, 2019

Department of Economics and Statistics*
PhD in Economics

SCHEDULE

17-18 June

Labor Economics
Luigi Pistaferri
Stanford University

Experimental Macroeconomics
Daniela Puzzello
Indiana University

18-19 June

19-20 June

Microeconomic Theory
Alessandro Bonatti
MIT Sloan

Macro-Finance
Marco di Maggio
Harvard Business School

20-21 June

The Summer School is addressed to Master students and PhD students in Economics and Finance.

There are no admission fees. Attendance is limited to 30 students, on the basis of applicants' qualifications and research interests.

Participants will have to cover their travel and accommodation expenses.

Applicants must submit their application at the following link no later than May 19, 2019: <https://goo.gl/forms/swHSxa8ZpDu358Y73>

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Participants will gain insights into cutting-edge research in economics and finance through lectures by outstanding faculty. Students will learn how to conduct experiments in economics and finance and how to implement state-of-the-art econometrics techniques in labor economics and macro-finance.

After the lectures, the faculty will be available to discuss research ideas and projects with program participants.

The Summer School will take place at Monte Sant'Angelo Campus in the University of Naples Federico II. Logistic information will be provided to admitted students. CONTACT: Micol Sorrentino PHONE: +39 081.675309 E-MAIL: mef@unina.it SITE: www.dises.unina.it/didattica

*Financed by the Italian Ministry of University and Research as a "Department of excellence" in 2018-22