The Summer School is addressed to Master students and PhD students in Economics and Finance.

There are no admission fees. Attendance is limited to 30 students, on the basis of applicants' qualifications and research interests.

Participants will have to cover their travel and accommodation expenses.

Applicants must submit their application at the following link no later than May 15, 2022: <https://goo.gl/forms/swHSxa8ZpDu358Y73>

Participants are strongly encouraged to present their own research in dedicated poster sessions.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Participants will gain insights into cutting-edge research in economics and finance through lectures by outstanding faculty.

Students will learn how to conduct theoretical and empirical research in microeconomics, macroeconomics, finance and political economy.

After the lectures, the faculty will be available to discuss research ideas and projects with program participants.

The Summer School will take place at Monte Sant'Angelo Campus in the University of Naples Federico II. Logistic information will be provided to admitted students. CONTACT: Micol Sorrentino PHONE: +39 081.675309 E-MAIL: mef@unina.it
